Council forced to take back Willoughby application

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

SEATON Town Council has withdrawn its application for Willoughby House.

The town council had agreed to purchase the run down property for £275,000.

In order to fund the purchase the council said it would take out a loan of £500,000 and this would be repaid over the next 25 years at just over £16,000 every six months.

Residents in the town had expressed their anger over an apparent lack of consultation by the town council over the purchase.

A petition containing almost 900 signatures from people against the proposed purchase was handed to East Devon District Council (EDDC) recently.

Sandra Semple, chairman of the town council, said: "As a direct result of hurtful comments made at the meeting held on Tuesday evening (August 25th) by some people who have been against the purchase of Willoughby House by the town council, the vendor has decided not to sell the property and the land to us.

"Members of the family of the vendor were at the meeting where these comments were made and it was decided after that meeting that there was no option but to pull out of negotiations since they were worried that this sort of thing would continue in the future too.

"Thanks to a small but very vocal opposition group, supported, assisted and guided by one town councillor who disagreed with the project — Peter Burrows — we have now lost the chance to acquire a potentially valuable asset for Seaton and possibly the only close-to-town-centre site with enormous potential that will be available for many years to come."

David Mears, clerk to the town council, added: "I am saddened that the purchase of a potentially valuable asset for the town has been disrupted by a small minority of people, not because it was wrong for the town but because the opposition to it took on such a personal note for the vendor, for myself and for the majority of members of the town council who supported the purchase.

"Purchasing assets through the Public Works Loans Board is something that is done throughout England and Wales. Other towns have substantial assets from which they are able to derive an income and which they can develop or even sell in later years to the benefit of the community.

"This is not the case in Seaton where our only asset is our allotments which, quite rightly, cannot be run to make a profit.

"If Seaton does not acquire assets through the Public Works Loan Board its only choice when trying to get community facilities will be to raise the precept (council tax) or rely on EDDC to let us have planning gain income from large developments within the town.

"Over the past few weeks some people have felt the council should conduct its business like 'consensus managers'.

"Councils, I agree, should seek input from all whose views can benefit the process.

"However, final decision-making is reserved to those who ultimately bear the responsibility for the decision — the councillors who you elect to office."

Councillor Peter Burrows was unavailable for comment as this newspaper went to press.

Real country market's last outdoors for this annum

COLYTON Country Market's last outdoor market of the year takes place during carnival week, on Tuesday, September 8th from 9.30am until 1pm.

Jacky Roberts-Wake of Colyton Country Market said: "We are continuing to find new and exciting produce to bring to the market and as harvest time approaches we are looking to have a bumper crop of home grown and home made goodies on our Colyton produce stall.

"Anyone in the area who has a surplus of produce from their garden or allotment is encouraged to bring it along to be sold on their behalf (10 per cent is retained for market costs)."

Those interested can call Jacky on 01297 553992 for more information.

Jacky concluded: "There will, once again, be coffee served in the square with live music to entertain.

"Our well known craft market will be running in the Feoffees Hall and this month we will have a wood turner demonstrating his craft."

Cycle course is cancelled

A CYCLE training course that was due to take place on Monday and Wednesday, August 24th and 26th, had to be cancelled because of poor weather.

It was due to take place in Seaton and was organised by the town's police force.

Officers say they hope to organise another event in the near future.

Stuck in lift, couple freed

TWO people in a stuck lift were freed by firefighters.

The firefighters were called to Homebay House, Harbour Road, Seaton, at 3.10pm on Monday, August 17th.

Fire engines from Seaton and Colyton, with crew commander Markham in charge, attended the scene.

◆ THE group of residents in Seaton who were unhappy about the town council's decision to buy Willoughby House and the change of use application, handed a petition containing 880 names and 386 letters of protest to the planning department at East Devon District Council on Wednesday. Margaret Smith and Glen Salter are pictured handing the petition and letters to Andy Carmichael, centre, from the EDDC planning department at Knowle in Sidmouth. The application has since been withdrawn.

High hopes after expenses scandal for independents

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

INDEPENDENT councillors on East Devon District Council (EDDC) think the furore about MPs' expenses could pave the way for independent candidates in the next general election.

There are eight independent councillors on EDDC, and they have joined forces to promote the idea of independent candidates for the general election.

The concept of independent candidates is nothing new, one stood in the Devon East constituency in 2005, for example.

But this particular initiative is a joint effort aiming to capitalise on the expenses scandal.

Independent group leader Mike Green of Beer said: "The independent EDDC councillors believe the people of east Devon wish to have a parliamentary system that is honest, open, transparent and accountable.

"And a system that reflects the wishes of the general public.

"There continues to be a sense of disillusionment with party politics, and a view that the political parties have brought our parliamentary system into disrepute, and threatened the integrity of our democratic processes.

"We know that local people like to be represented on their local councils by independent councillors, who are not subjected to a political party whip, and are free to work for their constituents' best interests.

"We would like to know whether east Devon people would wish to have similar representation at Westminster, and whether they would like to be represented by an independent MP.

"Someone with a deep connection with the area and the people that they aspire to represent; someone who has lived in the constituency for a long time, and would continue to do so; and someone who would give their utmost to serve their electorate."

The independent councillors are in the process of organising a series of meetings in east Devon towns and villages in the coming months, on dates to be announced.

The idea is to promote the idea of independent parliamentary candidates, and also to decide who such candidates might be.

In the meantime, an e-mail address has been set up to which members of the public can send messages and ideas.

The address is eastdevonindependents@live.co.uk.

BBC reporter visits library

BBC crime correspondent and author Simon Hall will pay a visit to Colyton on Thursday, September 10th.

He will be there to talk about his new book The Judgement Book, a novel about a crime-fighting reporter and his detective friend.

There will also be a question and answer session, and the event starts at 7.30pm in the new sports pavilion in Coly Road.

A sizeable crowd is expected, which is why it was decided to use the pavilion instead of the library.

The event is organised by The Friends of Colyton Library and advance tickets, including wine and cheese, are available from the library at £5 each (£4.50 for friends).

Remaining tickets will be sold on the door.

Please call the library on 01297 552 877 for ticket availability and more information.

Police checks prove drivers are speeding

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

SPEED checks at busy roads in Honiton and Axminster showed that many drivers are in a rush.

The Special Constabulary recently set up a checkpoint in each of the towns.

The initiative started on Friday, August 21st when a checkpoint was organised at Dowell Street in Honiton. 86 vehicles were checked and 22 were being driven in excess of the speed limit.

Chard Road in Axminster was checked the following day, with 93 vehicles monitored and 17 of them found to be breaking the 30mph speed limit.

Special Inspector Sue Newman said: "The Special Constabulary in rural east Devon are running these speed education checks over the forthcoming months.

"A mobile speed detection camera flashes up to motorists their speed, allowing officers to stop and speak to those drivers in excess of the speed limit.

"So far it has proved very successful and has been welcomed by both local residents and the drivers alike.

"Many motorists were unaware that they were breaking the speed limit and were spoken to by officers at the time.

"My hope is that the roadside check will improve road safety not only by being a deterrent, but will also make drivers more aware of the danger a speeding vehicle – a significant factor in road traffic collisions – poses to other road users."

◆ BEWLEY Cottage, Chardstock, above, since Robert Burrough paid £40,000 in repair works. Inset, the cottage before any of the works had taken place

MAN FORCED TO UNDO £40K OF WORK ON OLD COTTAGE

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@indlenews.co.uk

EAST Devon District Council (EDDC) has said it is protecting the countryside from inappropriate buildings after refusing to grant retrospective planning permission to a farmer from Chardstock who had spent thousands of pounds making a dilapidated cottage on the outskirts of the village safe.

Robert Burrough acquired the 200-year-old Bewley Cottage when he bought the farmland in 1992. He said he has spent £40,000 on the repair work but has now been told to return the ancient cottage back to its former state.

Mr Burrough said the building was unstable and that a wall could have easily fallen down on someone. The ruined cottage and farmhouse had not been occupied since the 1960s.

However, EDDC has told Mr Burrough that he had done too much to the building to count as repair work and he had to apply for retrospective planning permission, which was refused.

A spokesman for EDDC said: "The district council's decision has been supported by a planning inspector and the courts.

"Councils throughout England routinely create planning policies specifically designed to protect the countryside from inappropriate building — especially in Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB).

"Here in east Devon, we take very seriously our guardianship of the local environment and that is why this council applies this policy fairly but strictly. These buildings, in the Blackdown Hills AONB, had been derelict since the 1960s and were in an advanced state of decay. Our planning policy requires the owners of such buildings to allow them to revert back to part of the landscape and there are examples all over the country of buildings where this is happening.

"The farmer who wanted to turn the buildings into housing or a holiday let did the work without planning permission and he has now accepted our decision after losing his appeal.

"So far as Bewley Cottage is concerned, we have ordered the developers to remove all building materials as a result of any construction work during the previous four years, and to reinstate the land to its previous condition.

"There was no evidence that, if restored to its original condition, Bewley Cottage would be likely to become a danger to public health."

More live music for fayre

THE 10th annual Chardstock Street Fayre takes place on Saturday, September 5th, and organisers say more live music than ever before will be on show.

The event attracts thousands of revellers every year and so far it has raised in excess of £25,000 for local charities and good causes.

Cardiac Risk in the Young (CRY) will be this year's main charity. CRY was founded in 1995 to raise awareness of sudden cardiac death and sudden death syndrome.

Other events include the Chardstock Scrapheap Challenge, performances by the Chardstock Amateur Dramatic Society, a live fire show from Captain Chainsaw, a performance by the Barrow Boys and a grand draw at the George Inn.

A spokesman for the street fayre said: "This really is an event not to be missed, a good old traditional village street fayre.

"There is lots to do all day long with plenty of stalls, competitions, cars, tractors, dog show, bouncy castle and of course the Barrow Boys and Captain Chainsaw.

"You won't go hungry either, with cream teas, hog roast and barbecue, donuts and ice creams to name but a few of the refreshments that will be available.

"We look forward to seeing all our visitors and I am sure the sunshine will come out for us."

Entry costs £2 for adults and children will enter free of charge. The official opening takes place at the entrance to the village at 11am.

The organisers would like to thank this year's sponsors and everyone involved in making sure the event goes ahead. For more information about the event visit www.chardstockstreetfayre.co.uk.

Fast fit firm donates £650 to cancer care

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

STAFF at a Honiton business have donated £650 to Breast Cancer Care.

Fast fit company HiQ has already given £2,500 to the cancer charity this year and the extra money has been gratefully received.

Owner of the business, Gary Thompson, said: "We are all extremely excited with our partnership with Breast Cancer Care and the opportunities that exist with the charity.

"We think the charity fits perfectly with what we are trying to achieve at HiQ. Our aim is to become the fast fit company you can be sure of and our charity partnership will allow us to reach into the family market and educate them about us, while raising thousands of pounds for Breast Cancer Care in the process.

"It is such a worthwhile, hard working charity, and provides so much vital support for those affected by breast cancer, and their family and friends."

Breast Cancer Care's director of fund raising, Murray Lindo, said: "We are over the moon with HiQ's kind gesture, and we are looking forward to an extremely successful relationship in the future.

"Every 11 minutes, somebody will hear the news that they have breast cancer.

"We want to offer support to each and every one of them, and their friends and families, right from the moment of diagnosis, through to living with the disease.

"HiQ will not only generate vital funds, but they will ensure more people know where to turn should they need us."

Horror fan Daniel, 12, recognition for reading

His achievement was officially recognised at the library on Friday, August 21st when he was presented with a certificate and other rewards.

Daniel attends Colyton Grammar School and his favourite books were a number of horror stories by Darren Shan.

More information about the Book Track scheme is available from the library.

£1k raised to help heroes

A FUNDRAISING event in Whitford has raised more than £1,000 for the Help for Heroes charity.

The event was held in the village hall on Saturday.

Kay Holdsworth, organiser of the fundraiser, said: "We raised a total of £1,060 and I'm amazed.

"I would like to thank all the people who helped make the event so successful, beginning with the ladies who made cakes and helped in so many other ways.

"Our superb pianist, Edward Jacobs, who created an amazing atmosphere and also to Val Howells who, without any rehearsal and with her leg in plaster due to a recent injury, sang so beautifully.

"Also to Whitford Village Hall Committee for the free use of the hall and all the support they gave us, and last but not least to our sponsors of the raffle."

Riders enjoy livery camp

TWENTY riders and their ponies enjoyed a weekend camp at Bruckland Livery, Musbury.

A dressage, jumping and a 'le trec' competition were also included.

During a lunch break, Beci Holmes did a dressage-to-music display on Regie to the soundtrack of The Pirates of the Caribbean.

Competition winners were Angela Tomlin riding McGinley, Delia Pring riding Blossom and Carly Ridout riding Rosy. There was also a trophy for the most improved rider, which went to Steve White.

NURSE'S INVITE TO BUCK HOUSE GARDEN PARTY

Cathy attends palace event for long service

◆ CATHY and husband Brian Lee outside Buckingham Palace

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

AN auxiliary nurse from Honiton has attended a Buckingham Palace garden party.

The visit was in recognition of Cathy Lee's longstanding service to the NHS.

Mrs Lee has clocked up an impressive 18 years at Honiton Hospital and just started her retirement earlier this year.

She said: "The first I knew about my nomination was a knock on the door and the postman saying 'I don't often deliver one of these.' I thought it was a joke and then realised that the invitation to Buckingham Palace was genuine.

"I didn't know who'd nominated me until I got into work the next day and told some colleagues who knew about the invitation.

"The garden party was in the afternoon, but we first had to queue and show the right identification. Then, we were led up some red carpet steps and through the biggest hallway I've ever seen to the garden at the back.

"The Queen arrived at 4pm, but unfortunately I was a bit too far back in the crowd to see her properly. I did see her green hat though.

"I was delighted to be nominated. It's lovely to think that someone thought enough of me to go to such an effort. Although the weather was drizzly, I had a lovely time. I wouldn't have missed the day for the world."

Andrea Toman, lead matron for maternity services for Devon Primary Care Trust, who nominated Mrs Lee, said: "Cathy has been incredibly dedicated and we were so excited about her award.

"I think it's great that someone on the front line had been publicly recognised for all their hard work."

Grain dryer alarm raised

A TOTAL of three fire appliances, from Honiton and Chard, were despatched to a grain dryer on fire at Stopgate, near Yacombe.

The alarm was raised at 11.18pm on Monday, August 17th and firefighters found the grain dryer well alight when they arrived.

A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "The grain dryer measured eight metres by four metres and was holding seven tonnes of grain."

Two hose reel jets and four breathing apparatus were used to extinguish the fire, and the incident was declared as being "under control" at 1.24am.

The spokesperson added: "The cause of the fire is believed to be accidental."

Man denies meteor claim

A MEMBER of the public disagrees with a claim that meteors were seen in the Branscombe area in the evening of Saturday, August 15th.

The Coastguard investigated reports of flares but concluded people had observed meteors.

But Mike Perrington of Payhembury says he saw a power shot flare that lit the beach up.

He described the flare as being like the type "used to light a battle field".

Mr Perrington added: "It came from behind the cliff and it took about a minute before it landed.

"If it had come from the sea I would have rung up the Coastguard.

"There were also some Chinese lanterns going."

◆ YOUNGSTERS who attended a singing and dancing workshop in Colyford recently are pictured on stage

Stage workshop for youngsters is huge success

THE organisers of a recent musical and singing workshop in Colyford have described the event as a "huge success".

More than 20 young singers and dancers attended the two-day event at Colyford Memorial Hall, which featured learning singing and dancing skills.

The youngsters who attended also staged their own show.

Sarah Ryan, one of the organisers of the workshop, said: "The students were a joy to work with and couldn't have been more dedicated, I am so proud of what they achieved."

KATE ERIN MEW

Don't be too busy to enjoy

THE trouble with moving to the place you once holidayed in, is that you end up working and not enjoying all the benefits it has to offer.

As many readers will know, my family and I relocated to this area 15 or so years ago and, although I cannot deny taking utmost pleasure in the stunning countryside and embracing the easier (and nicer) way of life in this part of the world, I must admit to not appreciating all that goes on. Too busy writing about it and not enough doing it possibly.

So many tourists come a-visiting the Westcountry and they pack their days with all kinds of activities that this wonderful place offers. I know this all too well as I used to be one of said tourists.

Almost every year my parents would bring us to Devon where we would stay in a bed and breakfast on a farm just outside of Axminster. The family made us so welcome over the years that it became a home-from-home — we even used to enjoy a Sunday roast round the table with them! And our days were spent exploring the glorious scenery and potting about at one of our favourite haunts in Lyme Regis. Happy memories.

Now, I am lucky enough to live a stone's throw from that farm I so dearly loved and I also resided, for several years, in Lyme itself.

Now though, I tend to appreciate less of the things it has to offer.

This came to my attention recently when Gilly Clark (nee Peardon), a friend and well-known face in Lyme, asked me if I'd like to go and see a play at the Marine Theatre. Now, my initial reaction to going out in the evening after a hard day working — especially to see some dead-end play, imprisoned on a hard seat for hours on end — was slightly negative.

Oh, but sometimes I shock myself at my own stupidity! Off I went with Gilly, her husband, and a small group of others she (a teacher, unsurprisingly) had rounded up. Well, I think the last time I was in the Marine Theatre was when they used to hold the Friday night discos, and it had certainly changed. A sympathetic refurbishment and some posh chairs (which I was grateful for) had transformed the place.

The play itself was entitled Rebel Harbour, which said history to me. I was not exactly excited about the prospect of what sounded a little dull but I hadn't seen Gilly in a while and it was a good opportunity.

It turned out that Gilly knew the theatre company director or similar and she had already seen the play days before with her mum. She promised she was not on commission so it must have been good. And it was.

Based lightly on the story of the siege of Lyme Regis which happened during the Civil War, the rip-roaring production by Shanty Theatre was an inspiration — as well as a splendid surprise.

Action-packed and hilarious, the fast-paced story was presented in a contemporary manner, giving the audience no time to even glance at their watch and every chance to enjoy it, whatever their age.

The ensemble cast of just five did an amazing job of playing a number of roles — from both sides of the royalists which surrounded and attacked the seaside town and the Lyme locals, who supported parliament and defended their home, women and all.

Some of the historical facts are perhaps to be questioned (but I think that was the point) and the modern references and brilliant humour make it such easy watching.

The cast gave an excellent performance with talented singing and superb playing of old-fashioned instruments which complemented the scenes perfectly and the story was cleverly lit throughout to heighten the drama.

I'm so glad I took the time out to see such a superb show, making the most of what the local towns have on offer. The production is on for just three more nights — tonight (Tuesday) as well as Wednesday and Thursday, September 2nd and 3rd so, if you're quick, you can catch it before it finishes... and I encourage anyone and everyone to do just that.

'LOUD' AND CLEAR WAY OF FARMING WINS AWARD

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A FARWAY dairy farmer's methods have won him the Farming and Wildlife Advisory Group's (Devon) Bronze Otter Trophy for 2009.

Steve Loud, of Loud Partners, was presented with the trophy and a £250 winner's cheque following the Devon branch's annual meeting, held at Mikelyns Farm in Farway.

The trophy is awarded annually to the farmer judged to have best combined commercial farming with looking after the countryside.

An FWAG spokesperson said: "One of the key reasons the Louds won is because of their approach to dairy farming."

"In today's ever-increasing pressure to squeeze more litres per cow, often via forage and concentrates, the Louds have done the opposite."

"Their herd of British Friesians is fed almost entirely on the farm's own grass and silage."

"The Louds feel that lower output is more than compensated for by fewer health problems and a reduction in replacement costs due to cows remaining productive for longer."

"As well as benefiting the livestock, the farm's management policy contributes positively to the stewardship of a challenging landscape."

"The visual appeal of cows grazing steep pasture fields, sensitive use of farm inputs to protect watercourses, and a proactive approach to management of wildlife habitats are all strong features of the Louds' farm."

"The farm has some valuable wildlife habitats, all of which are being managed positively."

"In addition, ponds have been created, thus adding to the biodiversity of the farm."

"Another thing that particularly impressed the judges was the Loud family's enthusiastic approach to promote farming and care for the countryside to the wider public."

"To put this thinking into practical terms, new permissive access routes are being set up on the farm."

When welcoming the FWAG contingent to the farm, Steve said: "It's when you are taking part in competitions like this that you realise just how much actually needs to be considered."

PLEASED AS PUNCH

Happy students and teachers as local schools' GCSE results are announced

BY ANDERS LARSSON
AND BEN MIDDLETON

STUDENTS at Axe Valley Community College set new standards with an overall record-breaking result.

Headteacher Martin Smith was proud as punch and said: "They were challenged to exceed the college's previous record (62 per cent achieving at least five A*-C), which they have achieved emphatically."

The previous record was set in 2006 but was wiped out as no less than 69 per cent achieved at least five A*-C grades.

Among high-fliers were Polly Budden (six A*s, three As and one B) and Ben Hall (four A*s, six As, one B and one C).

There was also extra praise for the ICT department where 90 per cent of students achieved A*-C grades only.

Mr Smith added: "The improvements are a result of expecting the best from every pupil."

"We have worked closely with pupils and parents to ensure that each pupil is on track and motivated to succeed.

"I am very proud of the tremendous determination and commitment they have shown."

"I would like to thank staff who have gone the extra mile to help them succeed."

Honiton Community College improved its GCSE results compared to last year, and the girls led by example.

Assistant principal Andrew Holt explained: "The college's results have improved by five per cent this year, with some tremendous individual successes."

"Once again, girls have out-performed boys. This clearly lays down the challenge for next year's Year 11 boys to at least match or beat the girls' performance."

Particular congratulations in Year 11 for outstanding performance went to Alison Adams, Sam Bath, Kyle Bonetta-Martin, Fern Chugg, Jennifer Hole, Aaron King, Kathryn Maddern and Hugh Walters.

Mr Holt added: "The college is especially pleased with the results from our Early Entry Policies.

"Last week one of our Year 10 boys achieved an A grade at AS level. Some 53 per cent of students have achieved an English GCSE at Grade C or above a year early in Year 10."

"Other subject areas have been operating a similar policy of entering students early and have also achieved success."

"The college would like to thank the students for their hard work, the parents/carers for their support and the staff for their diligence."

Students at Colyton Grammar School have achieved excellent results at GCSE this year.

All students at Colyton Grammar School achieved the government target of at least 5 A*-C passes (including English, maths and two sciences), and 80 per cent of all the grades achieved were A or A*.

More than half of the students achieved more than 10 A*-A grades with thirteen students achieving 10 or more coveted A* grades.

Headteacher Paul Evans said:

"These are excellent results from a group of young people who have taken GCSEs in their stride a year ahead of normal and are ready for the challenges of sixth form."

"The next three years will provide them with a wide range of experiences in preparation for higher education."

Ten A* grades or more were achieved by Charlie Browne, Jamie Wells, Philip Stoneman, Harriet Wright, Mariam Anderson, Louis Biggs, Ciara Deehan-Jackson, Isabel Gyger, Phoebe Hill, Tom Pearson, Adam Speake, Samantha Wallace and Claire Machin.

GCSE results at the King's School, Ottery St Mary, have been described as excellent by headteacher Faith Jarrett.

Five or more students gained 76 per cent A* to C grades and 69 per cent gained five or more A* to C grades including English and maths.

Mrs Jarrett said: "This is a significant improvement on 2008, students excelled across the board."

"Many, many students have met or exceeded their target grades in a wide range of courses both traditional and vocational.

"These results are obviously the culmination of a great deal of hard work by the students supported by their teachers and families. The students should really celebrate the results of all their hard work and look forward to a very promising future."

Robin Mitchell, chair of governors at the Ottery school, added: "Many students have achieved quite outstanding sets of results across all subjects. There are substantial numbers of young people who through hard work and perseverance have done exceptionally well, many exceeding their own expectations."

"On behalf of all my fellow governors I would like to offer many congratulations to all the students, staff and families who will be celebrating."

What's point of a debate?

EDITOR — Am I alone in being repulsed by the Christadelphian society's recent hi-jacking of Seaton and, I believe, Colyton Town Hall in promoting bible exhibitions?

I am by the way a confirmed C of E Christian but like most believe that being a good Christian is a personal thing and very un-English to force one's beliefs upon others.

I was annoyed that credit-crunched Seaton was festooned with very expensive official looking AA road signs and a mini marquee set up on the sea front like time share touts on the Spanish costas.

Every finger post directing the non-existent crowds of sightseers to Seaton Town Hall to view the bible!

Surely, there are enough venues within Seaton open 24/7 365 days per annum where should one feel the need to see a bible they could read to their hearts' content.

Are these the people that mysteriously leave a bible in every hotel bedside cabinet in the western world?

Not content with moronically knocking on people's doors and ramming their beliefs upon others and being turned away.

I think it potentially dangerous to use children to do this hard sell. On one occasion the Seaton Town Hall door was manned by a lone girl, most people being too polite not to take a leaflet being thrust in their hand. It was a sure fire way to steer clear of the town hall.

They didn't stop there, I saw an advert regarding experts debating Darwin vs God at St Claire's education centre.

How can this benefit Seaton in attempting to cast doubt whether our Jurassic coast really did evolve over 185 million years when they actually think everything was made in six days by a white haired Caucasian human being?

I would be interested to learn who was the other person that recorded what god looks like, and why have no 185million-year-old human remains been found near Charmouth and most of all — if all the dinosaurs were wiped out by a meteorite how unfortunate that they all decided to be standing on the beach between Lyme Regis and Charmouth when the meteorite crashed to earth.

What is the point in creating a debate that cannot reach any conclusion?

Why not co-exist?

EDITOR — Many thanks for the Archway Bookshop vouchers you sent recently. Archway is my favourite port of call in Axminster.

Now may I be allowed to comment on another matter? Your unnamed correspondent praising the Tesco plan for Seaton seems to have completely missed the point.

Tesco are planning to build a store and petrol station only, at least Sainsbury's are intending to build a visitors' centre and new facilities for the tramway.

The Tesco plan would see half the site left derelict, probably for the foreseeable future because no developer will come forward prepared to cover the cost of raising the site to make it suitable.

The site was suitable for the holiday camp but Tesco are rushing to make sure that the infrastructure is removed and the holiday camp cannot therefore be revived except at massive cost. Why could the camp and Tesco not have co-existed alongside each other?

Already Tesco are rewriting history. The reasons I was given, by a Tesco representative at the town hall meeting, for the closure of the camp have little in common with the reasons we were told a while ago about why the camp may have to close.

It seems to me that Tesco are quite openly trying to blackmail us and the EDDC. Pass our plans and we might eventually tidy things up (known to Tesco as regeneration). Don't pass our plans and you will be left with a massive eyesore.

Just a hungry gull

EDITOR — Sea Fever (with apologies to John Masefield):

*I must go down to the seafloor
On this hot day in July
And all I ask is a bite to eat
Just enough to get me by.
And my feet's sore, my wings tired,
And my throat's raw from calling
I've spent the night on a cold town roof with my bairns around me bawling.*

*I must go down to the sea again
To support my kids and wife
But you'd think (the way folk treat me)*

*That I hadn't a right to life.
They curse me and blame me for the mess they leave in the street.*

*And empty the sea of the fish I need. What do they expect me to eat?
I must go down to the seafloor
Where the humans feast all day
No wonder all the waste bins
Can't hold what they throw away
And all I ask is they understand I don't hate them like they hate me.
I'm just a gull, a hungry gull, and I've always lived by the sea.*

Two events to remember

EDITOR — To commemorate the start of the Second World War we shall be holding two archive events at the Meadow Vale Chapel, King Street, Honiton on September 3rd and 10th at 10.30am when coffee will be provided.

Both events will present items recovered from the papers of Juanita Maxwell Phillips, former suffragette and Mayor of Honiton 11 times including 1939, 1940 and 1945. Of timely interest will be papers dealing with the evacuation arrangements in September 1939 when the first of 300 children from London arrived at Honiton station. Alderman Mrs Phillips acted as Evacuation Officer as well as Food Executive Officer at Honiton ration centre and was the county organiser of the WVS-ARP.

Mrs Phillips protested at Exeter prison when Emmeline Pankhurst was arrested and held there in 1913. Other subjects addressed in a talk will include the dedication of the Devon Cancer Bed at Marie Curie Hospital in 1932, the establishment of Honiton Little Theatre in 1933, now Meadow View Chapel, the Coronation in 1937, the opening of Allhallows playing fields in 1939 and Mrs Phillips's time as chair of the Devon Federation of Women's Institutes and other national women's organisations.

May I take this opportunity of thanking local people for providing material, one family in particular who do not wish to be named. Also for assistance rendered by Honiton Town Council, County Library, Honiton Museum and Meadow View Chapel, the former Honiton Little Theatre, which is a delight to see and from articles published in Pulman's View titles.

Last but not least to members of Senior Council of Honiton for their support for this first, but hopefully not last, Celebrating Seniors' Project beginning with Juanita Phillips.

We believe this archive is a contribution to people's history and to collective memory and is good for all our quality of life.

Charter been overlooked?

EDITOR — Store wars, has an ancient charter been overlooked?

On taking my dog for a walk I noticed the fairground being set up where it has been for ages, exactly where the proposed Sainsbury's is to be built.

It is just a question really that I haven't seen raised before, but from my time as a county councillor I am aware that a site for a fairground/fairfield is normally protected from development by an ancient legal charter.

Does anyone know whether this issue has been debated or a new fairground site proposed, where is it to be?

Town slogan deteriorating

EDITOR — Seaton has a desperate need of the spiritual lift that would be provided by the instigation of the regeneration plan. But every time an organisation emerges to fulfil the function a great deal of mud slinging is incorporated by the same group to smear the name of the said company in order to delay or prevent any changes. Firstly, Liatris became a dirty word followed now by Tesco.

Now the parish councillors have decided dictatorially to purchase Willoughby House so as to transfer their offices out of the town hall, instead of keeping a valuable presence there to prevent the district council from conjuring up some plan or other to take the heart out of Seaton. The enormous amount of money that the Willoughby House project will cost the local ratepayers would better be spent elsewhere.

For four years now, since the introduction of the 2005 Disability Discrimination Act, both the parish council and the town hall museum have been operating in defiance of that law.

There is still no access for disabled people to enjoy all that the museum has to offer, therefore the sensible option of which the vast majority of Seaton would have no qualms in supporting, would be to use the disputed cash to install a much needed lift to the museum for the sake of equal rights in this modern age.

It seems like the parish councillors wish to find a bolt hole in Willoughby House in order to hide their blushes over the ongoing mismanagement of Seaton's requirements.

What with no lift for the town museum and no plan for the town to get rid of the everlasting eyesores of Seaton Heights, the old Rascal site, the Stand Up For Seaton slogan is rapidly deteriorating into Screw Up Seaton.

£10 BOOK VOUCHER TO BE WON — EVERY WEEK

Town is fed up with bold ideas that end up fading

EDITOR — I am grateful that James Semple (Pulman's View August 25th) decided not to ignore my recent letter to Pulman's View, because it gives me the opportunity to clarify what I was trying to say.

I was admittedly a little clumsy in stating what I understood to be the case about a legal challenge being made by Mr Semple, not to but about Tesco plans for Seaton.

What in fact has happened is that Mr Semple has written to the EDDC planning officer, raising concerns about the proposed infilling of the camp site by sea, suggesting that a complete set of licences and approvals from all the statutory authorities should be in place before the application to develop the site goes before the planning committee.

It is correct to say that detailed planning consent would quite properly be needed for any infill operation from the sea, but this is separate from the general planning consent.

It must be remembered that the sea based infill operation is Tesco's response to the concerns raised about infilling by road, with all the attendant problems of infrastructure requirements and disruption to the town (inevitable whatever happens).

It would take around six months to carry out the necessary exercise to be given this separate planning consent.

If this has to be done prior to the planning applications going to committee, then this would obviously create a hiatus in which the uncertainty about the ultimate decision would fester and further unsettle the town's re-generation prospects. In that sense I would understand the actions of Mr Semple to be part of the delaying tactics that are being deployed by some groups and individuals in the town and nearby villages.

They are one component in the anti-Tesco stance being taken by Stand up 4 Seaton (now re-named 'Screw up 4 Seaton'), the Seaton Generation Trust and some councillors, who cannot seem to break from the allegiance to the Stand up 4 Seaton squad.

What is surely needed is a realistic set of plans from both Tesco and Sainsbury, rather than a set of pretty drawings and vague promises.

That should emerge from the planning meetings at which the council can apply pressure and deploy its legal and planning skills to make a proper assessment of the longer term viability for the planned proposals and their delivery.

The town is fed up with so many bold ideas for regeneration being publicised, then fading as the reality of delivery dawns on those seeking to gain from their ideas.

Alternative of affordable housing needed

EDITOR — In response to James Semple's invitation to me to join Seaton Development Trust, I could be tempted if it, or the town council or Stand Up 4 Seaton, can give us a better alternative of getting some desperately needed affordable housing built.

As a starter, I understand in excess of 300 units are needed. Tesco's outline application earmarks land for housing, some affordable, and so far there's no convincing argument to say it can't be done. Where is the alternative?

Getting to the interesting part of Mr Semple's letter gives us an insight into what's going on — namely ideas to develop our sports fields.

I cannot believe this is even being considered, but then I guess it's complicated, and perhaps a serious attempt to understand the confusing housing issues in our town is required.

Finally, since Mr Semple asks, yes Tesco is investing in the town and creating a lot of jobs.

Some people want choice

EDITOR — Every week we hear of yet more objections about the proposed new supermarket. We have groups who 'object to this' and others who 'stand up for that' and, of course, there are others who insist that we do not need another supermarket in the town.

No one seems to give a thought about the ordinary people who just happen to live in Seaton (I was born in Seaton some 60 years ago), and need to do shopping. Why should we be deprived of the extensive choice of products and much more competitive prices that are available in other local areas such as Sidmouth and Axminster?

Why should we have to drive to these towns to get these facilities?

Many say that our existing supermarket and local stores offer a perfectly good service.

Unfortunately, they only seem to sell what they want and not what we want or need and we are of course paying much higher prices than the bigger supermarkets such as Tesco, and the latter does, of course, sell a lot more than just food, such as electrical goods which we can no longer get in Seaton since Seaton Electronics closed earlier this year.

While all the constant bickering goes on, no one actually thinks of us, the ordinary people who deserve the same shopping facilities as our local counterparts enjoy.

Seaton residents constantly lose out due to bigotry and nepotism on the part of our so called 'leaders' and if they can't decide which of the two stores to accept, then may I suggest that we opt for both of them! Needless to say, the competition throughout the town will ensure that we finally get the same choice and value as everyone else.

NOW OPEN IN NEW PREMISES IN LYME ROAD, AXMINSTER

An Axminster based clinic's 3D Optical laser Foot scanner and Computer Diagnostic System, some of the most advanced in the world, form part of an innovative service to alleviate foot pain.

Feet can cause us real pain and we may not even know it!

We only have one pair of feet and they take us everywhere so it pays to take good care of them. But most of us don't give our feet a second thought ... that is until they hurt! Once our feet are hurting most of us have no idea how to eliminate the pain. Untreated this can lead to long term problems, many problems associated with the foot are the result of a faulty relationship between the bones and the muscles of the foot. Misalignment can result in a number of problems, commonly flat feet, persistent ankle sprains, bunions, corns, calluses, even symptoms that one would not normally associate with feet such as stress and pain in the back, neck, hips and knees.

SO WHAT ARE ORTHOTICS?

Orthotics, are special footwear inserts that are individually designed and manufactured to ease your pain and discomfort. They promote the proper alignment of the feet, restore balance, improve sports performance and alleviate pain in the knee, hip and lower back.

HOW DO ORTHOTICS WORK?

As your foot sits comfortably on our orthotic it is gently and consistently directed into the optimum position allowing the foot to function correctly when walking, running and standing.

AT HEALTHY FEET CHIROPODY AND PODIATRY OUR PRESCRIPTION ORTHOTICS ARE MADE TO THE HIGHEST STANDARDS AVAILABLE USING MODERN TECHNOLOGY. ARE COMPLETELY ACCURATE AND PROVIDE THE VERY BEST CORRECTIVE TREATMENT AVAILABLE. Our 3D Optical Laser Foot Scanner replaces the need for traditional plaster casting and drawing around the foot, methods still in use today which are messy, inaccurate, costly and utilizing materials of limited life, requiring frequent replacement. We successfully treat many foot conditions but one common foot condition we see a lot of at our Axminster based clinic is PLANTAR FASCIITIS. When your first few steps out of bed in the morning cause severe pain in the heel of your foot, you may have plantar fasciitis (fash-ee-EYE-tiss). It's an overuse injury affecting the sole or flexor surface (plantar) of the foot. A diagnosis of plantar fasciitis means you have inflamed the tough, fibrous band of tissue (fascia) connecting your heel bone to the base of your toes. You're more likely to get the condition if you're overweight, or if you have a job that requires a lot of walking or standing on hard surfaces. You're also at risk if you walk or run for exercise, especially if you have tight calf muscles that limit how far you can flex your ankles. People with very flat feet or very high arches are also more prone to plantar fasciitis.

The condition starts gradually with mild pain at the heel bone often referred to as a stone bruise. You're more likely to feel it after (not during) exercise. The pain classically occurs again after arising from a midday lunch break.

If you don't treat plantar fasciitis, it may become a chronic condition. You may not be able to keep up your level of activity and you may also develop symptoms of foot, knee, hip and back problems because of the way plantar fasciitis changes the way you walk.

REMEMBER YOUR FEET ARE THE FOUNDATION FOR YOUR ENTIRE BODY.

If you suffer from foot pain and/or would like to discuss an assessment please call us at Healthy Feet on 01297 631043 we are here to help YOU!

THIS MONTH'S QUESTION:

Is it correct that any extension or renovation works attract a reduced rate of VAT giving a reduction of 2.5% on the costs and will the rate be going back up?

S Howditch

ANSWER:

Yes that's correct due to the correct economic climate the government has temporarily reduced the VAT rate down to 15% from 17.5% and therefore renovations and extensions will be 2.5% cheaper at present. The government has stated however that the rate will revert back to 17.5% at some point in the future. Coupled with low interest rates and competitive builders prices it is a good time to take advantage of these factors if considering extending or renovating your property.

Alexander Paul

The team at Alexander Paul Antiques would like to invite readers of 'View From...' to visit our showroom at Fenny Bridges. At Alexander Paul we specialise in sourcing country style dining and coffee tables which are traditionally made of chestnut, oak and cherry. However we also carry a wide range of other styles of furniture and are often successful in sourcing specific pieces requested by clients. Our highly skilled restoration team are also available to work on your own pieces of furniture.

We are easy to find: first left off the westbound A30 past Honiton, with plenty of on-site parking available.

Antique furniture represents extremely good value even when compared to most mass-market modern furniture, and a better investment than contemporary or reproduction furniture. Of course for most people the choice is an aesthetic one, having an appreciation for furniture with character that has developed through hundreds of years.

The subtle shades of colour, changes in texture and the faint smell of beeswax all create a superb sensory experience that anyone can enjoy.

Magazines that focus on 'interiors' and 'lifestyle' are writing features about the increasing number of discerning people who are buying pieces of antique furniture to place in more modern homes.

The juxtaposition of a well-chosen piece of antique furniture placed in a modern setting, where it can be discretely lit by spotlights, will often show the piece off to better advantage than in a more traditional setting. For example a beautiful aged and mellow farmhouse dining table and chairs will wonderfully soften the lines of a modern kitchen.

We look forward to meeting you and assisting in obtaining just the right piece of fabulous furniture for your home.

Importance of eye care

MEETINGS of the Uptottery After Eight Men's Fellowship are held in the Sidmouth Arms, Uptottery, on the third Friday every month at 8pm and all men are welcome to attend.

The speaker at the August meeting was Frederick McShaw, a renowned local optician who lives in Honiton and who has a practice in Sidmouth. He also has a visiting optical practice.

Mr McShaw was awarded Optometrist of UK 2008 by his professional peers in the UK.

He is a most entertaining speaker but the focus of his talk was the serious matter of alerting his audience to the dangers of ignoring the early signs of eye disorders that can lead to possible sight loss.

He emphasised the need for people to be aware of eyecare and to have regular optical eye examinations which he said was a "must" as the eye ages.

Mr McShaw said that the eye is a complex organ which is made up of several highly specialised components.

Many eye disorders do not threaten sight but a few serious conditions may damage the eye components and lead to loss of vision if not treated in the very early stages. So he urged the group to be alert to the damages of ignoring the warning signs as early diagnosis usually leads to successful treatment.

If any men would like to join the group at one of the meetings please contact Greg Doughty on 01404 861558 for further information.

Members enjoy a super singing trip to Hereford

SLIDES were presented of Flora of Slovenia at the August meeting of Yarrowcombe Women's Institute.

Many of the pictures reminded members of their visits to the country and the beautiful unspoiled countryside and boat trips across the glacial Lake Bled.

Margaret Hooper was judged the winner of the flower of the month and Pat Bright was awarded the cup for her photograph of a Himalayan poppy. She and Joan Ewins were in charge of the refreshments for the evening.

During the business meeting, plans for the new Tuesday Club were found to be well underway. Members have decided upon the subjects for their allocated months and there seems to be a varied and interesting itinerary for the first year. The club will start off with an informal party to welcome anyone interested in the new venture in December and there will be a stall at the Christmas Market to raise necessary funds. For those as yet unsure how to use their evening a 'speakers list' is available from Honiton Library.

Veronica Wadey had compiled a flower quiz which totally baffled everybody and was won, much to her amazement, by Shirley Briant.

Joan Ewins was thanked for arranging the outing to Hereford which took place on Friday, August 14th. The coach left the village at 8am and travelled up the M5 arriving for a welcome break at Michaelwood Services before continuing towards Ross on Wye to Hereford arriving at about 11.30am.

The city centre was buzzing with market stalls and marquees celebrating the triennial visit of the Three Choirs Festival. Restaurants and shops all had special offers for the many visitors and there were various musical events in venues in and around the cathedral.

Coach party members split up and went their own ways to enjoy the attractions and find their lunch but kept meeting up as they found their way around the riverside and shopping area.

The Choral Evensong, at which the combined choirs from Hereford, Gloucester and Worcester sang brought everyone together again.

The magnificent sound of the singing and the organ filled the cathedral which was packed with worshippers, special screens having been erected so that those in the side aisles and behind pillars had good views of the choristers.

The coach which was waiting outside the cathedral green sped quickly away and took the route through the Wye Valley and Tintern back to the Severn Road Bridge a delightful end to a lovely day. A short stop at Gordano Services on the way home down the motorway was greatly appreciated, the coach arriving back by 10.15pm.

Joan has kindly organised several trips during the year and all are planned to the last detail, with maps of the area and restaurants and places of interest clearly marked.

On September 15th Lucy Morton, from Offwell Woodland and Wildlife Trust, will be the speaker.

Slimmer Rachel over seven stone lighter after ride shock is no fun

A WOMAN from Honiton has praised the town's Slimming World Group for helping her lose more than seven stone.

Rachel Taylor joined the group after a family visit to Thorpe Park. She waited in a queue for a ride for over two hours to then be told she had to move to a seat for larger people as the strap wouldn't do up. She moved to the seat and still couldn't be strapped in and was told she could not go on the ride.

She has now been attending Slimming World for just over a year and said: "On that first night I was scared stiff. I didn't have a clue what to expect and was worried that I wouldn't fit in or be accepted. How wrong was I?"

"The group was so welcoming and encouraging and both Sharon, the consultant, and the members were so supportive right from day one."

"I followed the original eating plan meaning I ate lots of meat and fish and vegetables."

"There are four other plans I could follow but I prefer this one."

Despite being nominated for the Honiton Slimming World Woman of the Year Mrs Taylor still believes she has a long way to go.

She added: "I have not yet reached my target as I am not sure

◆ RACHEL Taylor, who has lost over seven stone with Slimming World exactly what I want to be yet, but I am well on my way.

"The plan works brilliantly for me, I am never hungry and don't have to worry about weighing everything either."

The Recycling Shop

Units 3 and 4, East Devon Business Park, Wilmington, EX14 9RL

1st Birthday Celebration - 4 August 2009

There was plenty to celebrate when staff and many representatives from local charities held a party at The Recycling Shop. During the past twelve months:

- The Shop has grown more than ten fold
- Thousands of household items and furniture have been recycled
- Thousands of pounds has been donated to 34 different charities

Tony Chipperfield (Manager) told everyone how the business has evolved from its very humble beginnings at home to where it is today; how the customers vary from those who have little to spend to those who are just looking for that special bargain. He explained how he wants to build on the good relationships The Recycling Shop has already achieved with charities and for the money raised to remain at local level so that charities locally will feel the benefit. The charities, in their turn, expressed the value they place on being able to sell their larger items of furniture through the Shop, when they have insufficient display space, as well as their delight at receiving regular donations.

The following charities were represented:

Honiton Methodist Church, SW Children's Hospice, Force Charity, Devon Air Ambulance, RNLI, Elf, Cancer Research UK, Shelterbox, Cystic Fibrosis, Salvation Army, Riding for the Disabled, NSPCC/Childline, Shute Primary School.

They were all given birthday cake, a glass of something and a surprise cheque for £100 as a thank you for attending.

Many thanks to all our customers for their support throughout this year. Please keep coming again and again so that we can continue recycling and giving to worthy causes.

If you have any unwanted usable household items you would like to Recycle and would also like to help raise money for Charity then please call The Recycling Shop on 01404 831264

Pulman's View from the churches

THE Quakers, or officially the Religious Society of Friends, have members locally but their meeting place is in Exeter.

The Quakers were founded in the early 17th Century by George Fox. There are now over 19,000 Quakers in Britain, and some 350,000 worldwide. They were formed in opposition to the traditional churches whose ritual and hierarchical structure got in the way of direct personal relationship with God. They sit in meditation and anyone can speak at any time. Famous Quakers have included members of the Rowntree and Cadbury chocolate making families. The Quakers are now in the news because they have sanctioned gay marriages and asked the Government to give same sex couples who marry the same standing as heterosexual couples.

Next, news from Axminster of a new exhibition of original works by the Revd Judith Roberts of the Axminster Team Ministry. This Exhibition is in the Cathedral Chapter House from September 18th to October 13th and open daily from 10am to 4pm — admission is free. For further details and any variation of hours telephone 01392 285970.

In the same period there are concerts on September 18th of music composed for the exhibition by Charles West; first at 1pm and then at 8.30pm during Night Church. Now there is sad news from the Exeter Diocese Companion Diocese in the Middle East, as their Church at Baghdad with its clinic (mainly used by Iraqi civilians), and other facilities have been badly damaged by the recent bombs and injuries have been sustained by the staff and other members at the church and clinic. Money has already been donated from Devon and further gifts can be sent to Exeter Diocese Overseas Fund, c/o Bank House, Market Place, Colyton EX24 6JR — enquiries 01297 552942.

The same address, just above, is the point of contact for clergy in Exeter Diocese who would offer for temporary duty in the Diocese of Cyprus and the Gulf.

This month and onwards sees the ordination as deacons and priests of some 24 men and women in our diocese. New deacons will be made of 13, of whom one, Angela Gammon, is from the Honiton Benefice and will be leaving to serve at Sid Valley in Ottery Deanery with the Revd Preb David James.

Honiton Team are also saying farewell shortly to their curate, the Revd Karen Spray, who is leaving to be an incumbent in Aylesbeare Deanery, where she will have care of the people and churches of six parishes.

In February 2005, the Church of England and the Methodist Church agreed to work together to encourage a new movement of mission in their churches — and this has become known as Fresh Expressions. These churches have just appointed a new Leader in the person of Bishop Graham Cray, lately Bishop of Maidstone. The Bishop and his Team offer training and resources to assist local churches in spreading the message afresh in our time. This has become vital work with children and young people as now, sadly the majority of the population have no regular involvement with the Christian Churches. For more information contact Norman Ivison on 07885 866317 or norman.ivison@freshexpressions.org.uk.

Carnivals have started in east Devon and the churches are included with Songs of Praise services — at Seaton Parish Church it was on Sunday evening past, and at Colyton a similar service is on Sunday, September 13th at 2.30pm on the church green, in church if wet.

The Minster Church at Axminster is the venue from Tuesday 8th September for those wishing to join Axminster Choral Society for a performance later of Vivaldi's Gloria and Monteverdi's Vespers of 610 — meet at the Minster at 7.30pm every Tuesday.

Also in September the churches in Colyton Benefice are starting a monthly study and discussion on the Epistle of St Peter.

With September here many churches are turning their attention to the annual harvest festival. At a time when more and more people are becoming conscious about where their food comes from and how it is produced, it is good to have an opportunity to reflect on this and give thanks to God. Axminster United Reformed Church is holding its harvest festival on Sunday, September 20th at 10.30am. After the service and over a cup of coffee, the gifts of vegetables and fruit will be auctioned to raise money for Christian Aid.

Other churches across east Devon, along with many elsewhere, will be holding their own harvest festivals throughout the coming weeks, often combined with a harvest lunch or supper. The current issue of the Christian Review covering all churches in the Honiton area contains a very useful calendar running from August to October showing the dates, times and venues of the various forthcoming harvest celebrations, together with some other events such as an Ecumenical Service at 6.30pm on September 13th at the Church of the Holy Family Honiton.

Major changes for carnival

AXMINSTER Carnival bosses have announced major changes for this year's showpiece on September 19th.

They also want the carnival to spread happiness and cheer in a time of much doom and gloom.

One of the changes is a fuel saving measure that will see judging take place en route.

A statement issued by Axminster Carnival explained: "Due to the high cost of fuel we have decided to judge the procession en route."

"This will save the larger floats the cost of running their generators for two hours whilst waiting for judging to be completed."

As a result, all trophies, prize money and prize cards will be presented at the Guildhall after the procession at approximately 10pm.

It has also been decided to discontinue last year's trial of lining up the walking entries and majorette groups in Church Street and Silver Street.

Instead they will do the same circuit as the rest of the carnival.

The statement said: "Not presenting trophies and prize money in the square has given us the opportunity to reverse the procession."

"The procession will line up in the usual place, Trafalgar Way. It will then proceed up West Street instead of turning right into King Edward Road."

"It will then go through Trinity Square, turn right into South Street continuing up Musbury Road, then turn right down King Edward Road back to the start."

"There will only be one circuit of the town."

There is also a programme of extra activities as part of carnival week.

The carnival bingo will be played in Guildhall on Monday, September 14th, with an 8pm start.

The misplaced article competition will run from September 12th-21st and there will be a coffee morning in the Church Rooms on Thursday, September 17th.

A barn dance takes place in the Guildhall on Friday, September 18th, and Herbert's Fun Fair will be in Coombe Lane Car Park throughout the week.

To conclude their statement, carnival bosses issued a rallying cry, saying: "At a time when there is so much doom and gloom in the world, we want our carnival to spread a little happiness and cheer."

"Come on Axminster. Forget your problems for a while and be happy — let's show them that we are not a dreary run-down little town."

"We have a lot going for us."

Churches get double as two ministers join

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@indlenews.co.uk

SEATON Baptist Church will have a new pastor.

The Revd Simon d'Albertanson will be inducted on Saturday, September 5th, at 6.30pm. The service will be held at the United Reformed Church, Cross Street, Seaton.

Mr d'Albertanson is married to Kay and they have two young boys.

He has worked as an air traffic control officer in the RAF and then as a senior instructor with the Abernethy Trust, a Christian adventure centre in the Highlands, before he trained as a baptist minister.

The new methodist minister for Seaton, Axminster, Colyton and Dalwood, will also be unveiled at Seaton Methodist Church at 7pm.

Revd Linda Chester will be welcomed to the area during the service.

Mrs Chester was a science teacher for 17 years before entering the ministry in 1993.

◆ A NEIGHBOURHOOD Assessment Day organised by East Devon District Council was held in Uplyme this week. Representatives from environmental health, housing, REACT, the Red Cross and Axminster police were touring the village to gain the residents' views on any issues that concerned them. TONY JACKSON

Duck and dive harvest weather

WHAT ghastly weather! This so-called barbecue summer has, like the parson's egg, been good in parts, but they have been few and far between.

As I write, towards the end of August, the rain is slashing down, driven by a sou'westerly, leaves are flying and already there is a hint of autumn in the air. The harvest is not yet completed and it has been, for most grain farmers, a case of ducking and diving between bouts of sunshine and showers.

Still, as you read this I will be enjoying the last dregs of the summer in Corfu and, hopefully, the island's reputation for consistent good weather will be maintained for a week. I will, as usual, take a close interest in the wildlife and, particularly the butterflies, especially as several formerly unknown there have been discovered recently.

Meanwhile, here at home a grand scheme to create a million ponds throughout the country has just been announced.

The Million Ponds project, a partnership of major land managers and owners, led and co-ordinated by the charity Pond Conservation, hopes to create an extensive network of new ponds across the UK.

Dorset Wildlife Trust is hosting a training course, "Creating Clean Water Ponds for Wildlife", intended for wildlife professionals to understand best practice principles in creating ponds for wildlife and will, hopefully, help to develop ponds across the county.

Many ponds, countrywide, have been lost to farming and the expansion of building, and if amphibious wildlife, insects and the many creatures dependent on clean ponds are to survive and thrive, new waters must be created. Unfortunately, many existing ponds have been damaged by pollution and there is evidence that pond life is declining.

Clean, new ponds are essential to stop the trend. It is a sad fact that at least one third of countryside ponds have disappeared since the 1940s and a recent Countryside Survey reports that 80 per cent of lowland ponds are in poor or very poor condition.

One area in Dorset being targeted is Purbeck where existing ponds already hold nearly all the known British dragonfly species as well as the rare great crested newt.

Several rare beetles have been found in ponds at Povington and a network of ponds round Langton Matravers has been created and restored. This initiative, under the heading Purbeck Important Ponds Project, has been funded by Biffaward. Who they, you may ask? Well, in 1997 Biffa Waste services agreed to donate landfill tax credits to the Royal Society of Wildlife Trusts under the name Biffaward and to date grants amounting to £100million have been made to a number of projects.

Whilst turning out a drawer in my office the other day I came across a 32-page book called Home Hints. Assembled by one Barbara Chandler, it was published in 1982 and is a quite astonishing assemblage of well illustrated and remarkably useful tips and hints for a wide variety of domestic disasters or annoyances. It should be reprinted in my opinion and would find a ready audience in this DIY age.

For instance, lettuce, mint and parsley, washed and patted dry in a tea-towel, can be stored in the fridge in a polythene bag for several days; watercress should be stored upside down in a bowl of cold water, while green tomatoes will ripen if you put them in a paper bag with a ripe tomato or apple amongst them, and lemons will stay juicy for a month if stored in water, though the water must be frequently changed. If you have eaten garlic, to get rid of the smell chew some parsley, while rubbing a chopping board and your hands with a cut lemon will disperse the smell of onions.

There are literally hundreds of helpful tips in this booklet and I will offer a few of the really useful ones each week until they are exhausted.

"Colin's expertise and knowledge of hearing aids is phenomenal"

"I'd recommend Colin to anyone with hearing difficulties. So many hearing aid specialists told me there could be nothing done to help me, I was so pleased when Colin told me he could."

Mick Whittle.

"Why do I go to Colin as opposed to the NHS? Because I have found someone who is interested in me as a person, not just some number. Colin is so meticulous at getting the hearing right. I would never dream of going anywhere else."

Shelia Ruffett.

"Always receive open and first class advice, no pushy sales talk. And what you get is genuine service, pleasantness and reasonable prices with the opportunity of always contacting Colin if there is a problem."

Geoff Poole.

Sound advice

If you are reading this, chances are that you've already taken those first positive steps to either getting help for yourself - or for someone close to you - and at Honiton Hearing Centre, we fully appreciate that facing up to hearing loss and seeking help is far from easy. Hearing aid audiologist Colin Eaton explains "It can take a few years for someone with hearing impairment to accept their problems".

Sit back and think for a moment - several years of stressful family occasions with stress levels building as conversation becomes difficult due to increased background noise, especially when people are not talking direct to you; several years of missed family moments and non-participation because you've given up on making interactive remarks and can't fully appreciate all of the shared conversations; and finally spoiled 'treat' moments when concerts, theatrical plays and the like are not enjoyed to the full because the occasion does not sound like it used to or key words are missed.

"Despite being aware of such obvious problems, many people are still reluctant to admit to a problem," said Colin. "A common philosophy I hear from clients is that they are not old enough for a hearing aid!" Acceptance differs amongst age groups and lifestyles. Some younger people realise and admit that their hearing problem is affecting their lifestyle and so a more modern 'personal communication assistant' is used.

In contrast, some elderly clients recognise the problem but do not think it is worth bothering about. Colin's advice here is gentle encouragement and once the individual accepts the need for a hearing system, it is imperative to begin the detailed process of testing, talking and prescribing, through to fitting, counselling and advising. It is important to 'research' each client as an individual, finding out how they live their life and where the impairment makes life difficult.

In conclusion, when each client is first fitted with a hearing instrument, hearing system or personal communication assistant, they tend to hear. Then gradually, over a period of time coupled with the help of your local hearing aid audiologist, they will learn how to listen.

Annual bike ride is ready

THE annual Honiton Cycle Ride is set to take place on Sunday, September 13th.

This year's event could prove to be one of the toughest yet as the organisers have introduced a brand new element to the ride — the 50-mile pre-Tour of Britain Challenge.

The challenge will use part of the route that the official Tour of Britain riders will follow a week later when the elite event comes to east Devon.

There will also be five and 27 mile cycle routes around Honiton, as well as a barbecue and entertainment at the Wyndham Arms, Kentisbeare.

All money raised will be donated to Hospiscare, which supports hundreds of patients and their families in Exeter, mid and east Devon every year.

Entry to the event costs £5 for adults and £2 for under 16s, all routes start from the Otter Inn, Weston, from 10.30am.

All entrants will be entered into a free draw to win one of two bikes donated by Everys of Honiton.

For more details on how to register visit www.honitoncyclerides.co.uk or contact 01404 47211 or 01404 47335.

Free coffee

FREE tea and coffee will be on offer during a Honiton Senior Council open meeting on Monday, September 7th.

The event will be held in the Royal British Legion Hall, Dowell Street, from 10.30am.

Guest speaker will be Caroline Lee, from the Ottery St Mary-based charity East Devon Volunteer Support Agency, and she will speak about health and social care services in Devon.

James, 14, reaches a high with double win

A YOUNG rider from east Devon has just topped off a great season's show jumping by winning two coveted classes at the South Western Show Jumping Club's August show.

James Wilson, 14, of Kilmington, came first in the South West Pony Open Championship, jumping fences 1.20-1.25 metres high, at Bicton Arena during the four-day junior event from August 12th-15th.

Riding his own pony, AJ's

Dibberford Irish, James also took the Bicton Power and Speed Derby, jumping the only double clear over the 23-obstacle course, which is a whopping 1km long.

Earlier in the year, he competed in the European Trial warm-up class at 1.25m in the first round and 1.30m in the jump-off and came 4th which was a great achievement as there was a very high level of competition.

He has also had some success on his young Spanish pony, Haefia Viento Del Mar, winning the Foxhunter class, at the height of 1.10m, at the area show. He won a rug for the highest placed BSJA area 50 junior academy member.

He is now preparing for the Easibed Scope BSJA Festival of Show Jumping in Staffordshire where he will compete both his ponies which have qualified.

The show runs from August 30th-September 5th and James will be jumping against some of the best in the country.

Poems from wartime are discovered

A WARTIME poem and messages to the mayor and people of Honiton from the people of London has been discovered and will be on display during a Honiton Senior Council exhibition.

The exhibition celebrates the work of Juanita Maxwell Phillips, 11 times mayor of Honiton who served during the second world war as an evacuation officer. She was also the food executive officer and county organiser of the Air Raid Precautions.

A spokesman for the senior council said: "Juanita played a key role in the evacuation and ration office from the moment war broke out.

"In fact documents show plans for the arrival of 600 London evacuee children eight months before it happened. Local women's groups, churches and halls were all ready and it seemed to work well.

"Altogether almost 3,000 children were billeted in east Devon."

The exhibition takes place at Meadow View Chapel in the town on Thursday, September 3rd, and again the following Thursday.

Ladies hold sale morning

ALL Saints WI will be holding a coffee morning and sale in the Church Rooms, Axminster, on Saturday, September 5th.

The event will run from 8.30am until 12noon.

Colyton Carnival Week 2009

Colyton Carnival Week 5th September - 12th September 2009

Colyton hosts the second carnival on the East Devon circuit, following on from last week's Seaton procession. Over the years the carnival has funded some of Colytons principal community facilities. This year the main aim is to raise money for equipment for the multi use games area at the playing field.

Despite it's narrow streets, the Colyton procession is one of the most spectacular in East Devon and certainly attracts the most floats. Several Colyton Carnival Clubs then participate in the remainder of East Devon carnivals, move on to South Somerset Federation Carnivals during October, and then line-up at Bridgwater Guy Fawkes Carnival in November to begin the Somerset Circuit - towing their carts many hundreds of miles in the process!

But Colyton carnival is more than just a procession with activities taking place every day. A whole week of events is planned to include, raffles, car treasure hunt, bingo, quiz night, cabaret, whist drive, discos, art and craft show, fashion show and ploughman's lunches.

The carnival market, one of the most lucrative events will be held in the council car park on Saturday 12th September from 1.30pm. The week comes to a close with the open air songs of praise in the grounds of St Andrews church on Sunday, September 13th 2.30pm, followed by the grand carnival draw in the town hall with a first prize of £150 on offer.

The carnival committee acknowledges the help and assistance given by so many business houses in the town, the police and private individuals too numerous to mention. The committee would like to thank Mr Chris Way of CRW Accountants for his help in certifying the street collection return and all the organisations that put on events for them especially those who are not members of the carnival committee. The continuing support of so many enables the carnival committee to give financial support to local projects and organisations. Thank you to all and have a fantastic carnival week.

Procession starts at 8pm

Unemployment hits landlords as tenants struggle to pay rent

Fulfords Residential Lettings are offering discounted rent collection service and rental guarantee insurance for local landlords

AS unemployment continues to rise with 2.44 million people currently seeking work, more tenants are beginning to struggle with paying their rent, leaving many landlords falling into arrears with their mortgage repayments, reports leading local agent Fulfords.

The issue of non-payment of rent is evident across the UK, with the Association of Residential Landlords (ARLA) recently stating that around 65 per cent of letting agents had reported an increase in the number of people falling behind with their rent in the past six months.

To assist local landlords and to make sure they receive their rent on time during the current economic downturn, Fulfords, has launched a new initiative which allows landlords to offload the burden of collecting rent by acting as intermediaries between the tenant and the landlord by managing the collection of rent.

Fulfords operate seven branches in Devon and are part of the UK's largest specialist lettings network, Countrywide Residential Lettings. Fulfords are using their local expertise and industry expertise to help landlords struggling to collect rent.

Kirsty Lane, Lettings Manager said: "We are seeing more landlords snap up our rent collection service, which has recently been reduced to help an increasing number of landlords receive rental payment on time, every month. Our rent guarantee insurance is another option to give local landlords some much needed peace of mind in the current economic climate."

Kirsty added: "We offer a one-stop-shop for local landlords, offering the widest range of property services and rental solutions to help local landlords. We offer professional advice and guidance on lettings legislation should a tenant default on their rental payment."

"We have over 7 specialist lettings agents operating in Devon. Please call your nearest Fulfords office on 01404 46010 and discuss how we can assist you."

Theatre becomes A Doll's House

EXETER Northcott takes another great leap forward this September with A Doll's House, the first in-house production directed by Rebecca Manson Jones, who joined the theatre as Creative Director in January 2009.

With a cast and creative team featuring both national and local talent, A Doll's House confirms the theatre's commitment to creating dynamic, challenging work appealing to audiences of all ages. Manson Jones explains, "this is a fire-cracker of a play to open our new season with and set up our stall for creating a vibrant and vigorous programme."

Henrik Ibsen's incendiary domestic classic is presented here in a taught contemporary version by Samuel Adamson, one of the most compelling voices of 21st century British theatre. The stylised set by Janet Bird (Enjoy; West End; Alphabetical Order, Hampstead Theatre) breaks the mould by bringing the audience up close to the action.

Taking an unsentimental approach to Ibsen's characters, the production highlights the dilemmas couples face when confronted with the reality that their partner is not the person they imagined them to be.

The cast is led by Clare Calbraith (Hangover Square, Finborough Theatre) as Nora and Pieter Lawman, most recently seen performing for Exeter Northcott as Mercutio in Romeo & Juliet, as Torvald. Also featured are Wendy Brierley (The Price of Meat, Show of Strength & Lyric Hammersmith), Heidi Dorschler (Hamlet, Cube Theatre), Rupert Holliday Evans (Don Juan, English Touring Theatre) and Howard Saddler (Othello, Deconstruction Theatre Co.).

The show runs from Wednesday, September 9th to Saturday, September 26th. For tickets or more information call 01392 493493

One Car Stolen Every Five Minutes

HPI offers tips to avoid buying a stolen vehicle

THIS week's ITV UK Car Crime programme shockingly revealed that one car is stolen every five minutes, highlighting that more people are at risk of buying a stolen car than ever before. The leading vehicle information expert, HPI, stresses that all used car buyers need to take a few simple but effective steps to help beat the car criminals.

"Last year, 14,000 vehicles were stolen in Greater Manchester alone, which illustrates just how serious the problem is," explains Nicola Johnson, Consumer Services Manager. "The problem continues as car criminals continue to employ a variety of dirty tricks, such as car cloning, to fool innocent purchasers into buying a stolen car. Car cloning is the vehicle equivalent of identity fraud where the stolen vehicle is fraudulently disguised as a similar vehicle already on the road."

"If you buy a cloned or stolen vehicle you stand to lose the car and the money you paid for it, as the vehicle will always be returned to its rightful owner. Consumers should recognise the risks and use every tool available to them to help combat the vehicle fraudsters. By conducting a vehicle history check and proceeding with caution, car buyers can uncover a fake and walk away unscathed."

HPI recommends the following tips to avoid buying a stolen vehicle

Check that the identification numbers on the car, such as the Vehicle Identification Number (VIN)/chassis number, have not been tampered with, and that they match those on the V5/logbook documents.

If you're buying privately, make sure you are viewing and buying the car from the registered keeper at their address as detailed on the V5 registration document.

Do not buy the car if the seller cannot produce the V5/logbook registration documents.

Thieves may attempt to change the identity of a stolen car by changing the number plate, VIN or window etchings so look for signs of tampering.

Research the car's market value – be wary if the vehicles price is 30% or more below the retail market value, and don't pay with a substantial amount of cash.

If there is a mark or sticker showing that the car is linked to a security register, check it out.

As well as revealing whether the car is registered as stolen, has been written-off, or is on finance, the HPI Check also protects buyers with the HPI Guarantee(3). This provides up to £30,000 financial reimbursement in the event of the car not being everything it seems – including a clone. If buyers are concerned that they may purchase a cloned vehicle, they should call HPI for further advice on 01722 422422.

SUZUKI ADDS SX4 SALOON TO THE RANGE

- Suzuki now offers Saloon model within the SX4 range
- Available with 107PS 1.6-litre petrol engine and manual transmission
- On sale now; priced at £11,895
- Similar equipment specification to SX4 1.6 GLX hatchback
- Available with zero per cent finance until 30th September and eligible for £2,000 scrappage allowance under the current Government scheme

SUZUKI GB is pleased to announce the launch of a four door saloon to the popular SX4 range. The stylish new model is on sale now, priced at £11,895, and provides Suzuki with an added opportunity in the 'B' and 'C' small and medium size car segments. The new model is built in Japan and has enjoyed success in the domestic market there; also in North America as well as numerous European markets.

The saloon SX4 comfortably accommodates up to five people and their luggage needs with its 515 litres of boot space, while retaining a sleek and stylish look. Exterior dimensions are length-width-height of 4,510mm x 1,730mm x 1,545mm.

These efficient proportions together with a minimum turning circle of 10.6 metres make the SX4 easy to navigate around urban streets and easy to park thanks to electric power steering.

The spacious interior offers plenty of leg and shoulder room, even for rear seat passengers. Space is not the only factor in ensuring plenty of on-board comfort: the shape and position of the seats are designed to support a natural posture, a key factor in comfortable long-distance travel. Additionally, ideal seat heights and large door apertures make access easy for all on board. The rear seats are set slightly higher, which means even those in the back get a good all-round view.

For added practicality, the new SX4 Saloon features a through loading system to allow for longer items to be loaded from the boot. The rear seats divide 60:40 to accommodate seating for one or two rear passengers or none, making full use of the extra boot space available.

A number of handy storage compartments are provided throughout the cabin, including large pockets on all doors with bottle holders.

The SX4 Saloon is similarly equipped to the popular SX4 1.6 GLX hatchback with a high standard specification including six airbags; four electric windows, MP3/WMA compatible CD tuner, automatic air conditioning, 15-inch alloy wheels, keyless entry and start and heated door mirrors. The only differences being the addition of colour keyed lower bumper and side sill mouldings and the omission of roof rails, side protection mouldings and black body trim.

The new model is available with the 107PS 1.6-litre engine which utilises a drive by wire throttle for smooth and responsive progress; the 1.6-litre engine powers the SX4 from nought to 62 mph in 10.7 seconds and on to a maximum speed of 112 mph (where permitted).

In combined cycle driving, it has a combined fuel consumption of 41.5 mpg with CO2 emissions of 165g/km.

As with all other Suzuki cars; the new SX4 Saloon is eligible for the government scrappage scheme which provides a £2,000 discount when trading in a 10 year old car or LCV. Zero per cent finance is also available on the new model until 30th September with 50 per cent deposit, payable over two years.

BOWLS ROUND-UP

Ladies' Captain Day at Seaton

Seaton with David Ford

LADIES Captain's day at Seaton Bowls Club took place on Saturday, August 22nd, and was marked by a captain v vice-captain match played over four rinks.

After an enjoyable afternoons bowling, the captain's team was defeated by 23-46. After the match the teams were joined by 15 non-playing members, and 47 ladies sat down to a superb buffet laid on by the catering committee. Thanks to all the ladies for all the hard work that went into making the day a very special occasion - and to the six gents who waited on the ladies and served the drinks.

The following day four rinks of men playing at home, met Culm Vale in a Two Counties League match. Seaton won on three rinks 92-61. Top rink was J. Allison, R. Thompson, R. Carnell and R. McDonald 27-6. On the other two rinks the ladies of the two club's played a friendly game resulting in a win for Seaton 45-35. Top rink - O. Blunden, B. Steer, O. Real and A. Mayhew (29-14).

The over 60s playing away lost to a very strong Topsham side 28-43. This defeat wipes out any hope of promotion this year, but all who have taken part in these matches have enjoyed both the competitive bowling and the friendly atmosphere in which these games are played.

Last Monday the DCBA President visited Seaton with four rinks of men drawn from various clubs, and after close results on all rinks Seaton ran out winners 80-72. Top rink comprised J. Derbyshire, A. Green, K. Miles and P. Greenwood (25-19).

There were three other friendly results. Against Heavitree at home three triples of ladies won 50-45. Top rink - A. Wright, B. Steer and A. Mayhew (22-12).

At the same time three triples of men lost 45-52. Top rink was E. Backhouse, J. Derbyshire and R. Thompson (24-18).

Four mixed rinks played at Phear Park losing heavily 52-89. There was only winning rink for Seaton - Alan Cook, Anne Messeder, Gerald Knott and Rhonda Follenfant (20-16).

At home to Madeira four ladies rinks lost a close match 71-76. Top Seaton rink - B. Powell, G. Brazendale, J. Russell and B. Thompson (23-14).

Feniton with Roger Smith

BOTH Feniton A and Feniton B over 60s teams were in action away at Dawlish Marina. The A team secured a narrow victory by 33-31 over Marina B. The winning rink was E. Cox, A. Evans and R. North 15-13 with the other rink being tied.

This result virtually assures that the A team finish in third place in Division Three, a fine achievement in their first season in this division.

The B team secured maximum points against Marina C winning by 42-25. The winning rinks were C. Cheesley, G. Skinner and F. Imms (19-10) and E. Goodenough, R. Clarke and D. Conbeer (23-1). This was a crucial result which confirms the B team's place in division 6 for next season.

On Tuesday Feniton were privileged to play host to the match between The Devon County Ladies Bowling Association's with Hampshire. Unfortunately, on a rain affected afternoon Devon lost to Hampshire.

On Thursday the visitors to Feniton were Phear Park. In a close, friendly and exciting game Feniton mixed team drew with Phear Park 76-76. The winning rinks were F. Jones, J. Cartland, J. Mitchell and R. Smith (19-12) and F. Brooks, J. Skinner, J. Smith and A. Evans (21-19).

On Saturday Feniton entertained tourists from Wotton under Edge. The score in a close match was 118 to 107 to the tourists. The winning rinks for Feniton were R. Cooke, D. Phillips, E. Tuck and R. Arundell (28-16) and G. Phillips, E. Goodenough, R. Clarke and S. Kury (19-15).

The final match of the week was away against Ottery St. Mary and the home side exacted ample revenge for an early season defeat by beating Feniton by 66-81. Feniton's only winning rink was J. Livings, J. Skinner, E. Tuck and R. North (21-12).

The Ladies singles final was won by Lyn Eveleigh who defeated Gill Smith by 22-7.

Honiton with Tony Broughton

SATURDAY, August 22nd was the first day of the Honiton Bowls Club finals; the weather was good and a fair amount of spectators assembled.

First up was the two semi-finals of the Tucker Men's Triples. Tony Trembeth, Gerry Dommett and Mike Sellick were the first to the final beating Doug Hirons, Dick Summers and Keith Parsons 21-7. The second three through to the final were Derek Morris, Mike Critchley and Gordon Tillier who beat Tim Holding, Paul Crockett and Trevor Pipe in a thrilling match by 23-22.

Bill Sheerman, who is playing his second season for Honiton, gave our top lady, Sue Evans, a good game in the Marshall Handicap but eventually lost to her 42-35. In this game players use three bowls then get three points for shot, two for second and one for third, other bowls do not count.

In the afternoon Yvonne Rainer and Trevor Pipe surged ahead against Sue Evans and Colin Mees in the Corney Mixed Pairs Final, but when Sue got her drawing eye in and Colin started converting when down, things quickly changed and they came out 24-14 winners.

Colin lives in Honiton and has been a member for many years but when work moved him to Exeter he started to play for Exonia, and still does. He only plays in this one competition with Sue each year and usually they win it.

Selectors, it's time we raised some transfer money to get Colin back home!

The Evans Ladies Pair's competition started well but turned into a bit of a landslide when Pat Trembeth and Carole Fisher beat Carol Pidgeon and Pearl Hackwood 32-8.

The Dimond/Nex Pairs saw Jean and Paul Crockett play Shirley Hiscocks and Sid Hattam. This was a very close fought match and came down to the very last bowls of the match.

Sid was up by one shot on the match but two down on the last end but managed to convert to one shot to win the match 18-16.

Sunday morning started overcast and again Sue Evans was in action, this time against Dulcie Broughton in the Rice Bowl Handicap. Now this is strange because Dulcie's handicap is 5 and Sue's 7 so Dulcie needs to get 26 shots and Sue 28. When I was a kid we always gave the underdog a start, for example they started before me in the 80 yards swimming and stood in front of me in the 100-yard running. The single game is 21 shots so why did they not give Dulcie a two-shot start? Let's hope when the Ladies and Men's Association become one soon they get some parity in this type of thing. This was the only final Sue lost at 26-24 to Dulcie.

The final of the Tucker Triples was again a tightly fought battle. On the 18th end Gordon was four shots down on the match but managed to claim four to force the extra end. With his last bowl in the extra end he sliced the jack but failed to get shot leaving Tony, Gerry and Mike the winners at 26-21.

The Pollard Men's Pairs was also tightly fought for most of the match but eventually Chris Stone and Ken Large beat Mike Saunders and Mike Dart 24-15.

The afternoon saw Sue in action twice against the same opponent, Shirley Hiscocks, first in the Ladies Championship that she won 21-7 and then in the Heard Two Wood singles played over 21 ends which she again won 18-6.

The Men's Championship final was between Trevor Pipe and Steve Dommett and started very tight, but Trevor forged ahead to 18-11. Steve dug deep and pulled it back to 18-18, he then seemed to change jack length presumably to go for a win but this turned out to be a disaster as Trevor gained a 3 to win the match 21-18.

The final match of the day was Tony Broughton playing Paul Crockett in the Webb Singles this is for men that have not previously won a club singles.

The match started well for both players and the score was soon 7-7 then a light rain came on and seemed to change the speed of the green. Paul adapted, Tony did not, and Paul won quite comfortably at 21-8.

Paul was using a set of bowls bought from Tony just six weeks ago and Trevor was playing with Tony's first set of bowls purchased in Reading when he started playing 30 years ago. So there's a lesson to all you would-be top bowlers - you don't need the latest style or colour bowls to be a champion, good bowlers can play with anything!

Presentation of trophies for Indoor and Outdoor bowlers winners will be in November at the Honiton Golf Club.

GOLF ROUND-UP

Seniors win coveted challenge trophy for first time

HONITON GOLF with Paul Dimond

HONITON Golf club had a busy weekend. Saturday saw the annual Honiton challenge take place, where the four sections of the club - men, ladies, juniors and seniors - battle it out for the coveted Honiton Challenge trophy.

This ten-a-side individual competition is keenly contested with one member from each section playing as a fourball, and needing a top six finish in order for their score to count.

The holders of the trophy, the juniors, just failed to retain it as it was the seniors who proved too experienced for the opposition, winning the trophy for the first time.

On Sunday Honiton hosted the Royal Airforce Association (RAFA) Men's open competition. Honiton has had a long association with RAFA this being the 35th anniversary of the competition. The day had many highlights not least a 213yard hole-in-one on the fourth hole by Mike Roberts of Wrangaton and a holed 180-yard fairway wood on the 11th for a two and five points by Richard Jessop of Tiverton.

Winning the competition with 42 points was Honiton Secretary Brian Young and his partner Richard Jessop on countback from the Club Captain Nick Richards and his partner Roy Bumpstead.

More importantly, the day raised over £300 for RAFA for their work with injured RAF personell

LADIES SECTION

DUE to the weather conditions the Ladies' American Foursomes competition had to be called off after just a few holes.

On Sunday the Ladies played their EWGA Medal. Result - 1st Jackie Seager (90-14-76), 2nd Elizabeth Ward (94-17-77).

MIXED GOLF

THE Mixed golf played this week was the Steele Perkins Cup, an Individual Stableford format but played as Mixed.

This competition was started in 1959 and the cup was presented by Dr Steele-Perkins the first Honiton member to be given life-membership.

The winner was Olwen Eaton with 39 pts. Second was Lady vice-captain Elizabeth Ward with 37 on count-back from Chris Poole.

AXE CLIFF GOLF with by Helen Gaudie

THE main club played the Geoff Davis Trophy on Sunday. In first place with 37 points was P. Curtin, beating the current Captain S. Anning on the back nine ruling and third on his own was C Trivett with 36 points. Fourth place, beating four others on the count ruling, was D Hales with 34 points.

The a Team played Exeter Golf Club at Sidmouth and a resounding win over the bigger club, winning by 4 1/2 to 1/2. Well played A Team.

In the Seniors' Section there was one inter-club match last week - the return match with Chedington at Axe Cliff. Despite three of the first four games going the way of the home club, the tail did not wag and the game ended all square 3 v 3. Winning pairings for Axe Cliff included Chris Walker/Hugh Willis, Gilbert Cox/Alan Vincent and Tony Strong/Norman Stone.

■ ON Friday Axe Cliff's Lady captain Chris Drew, the Vets' captain Chris Walker and Tom Glover, the golfer from Axe Cliff who played six and a half clubs in one day to raise money for the Air Ambulance, presented a cheque of £1,175.50 to Don Hansford, the local representative for the charity.

Presidents Prize

THERE were some familiar faces were at prize giving to collect the top prize on President's Day.

Kevin Legg, Roy Turner and David Sheldrick (pictured below) again outplayed the field and scored 87 points.

The format for the day was a stableford scoring system, full handicap. In teams of three, one score to count on the first six holes, two scores on the middle six holes and all three to count on the last six.

Golf knows no age barriers and can be enjoyed by all and so it proved with the second place trio of James Pickard, George Barber and David Bater. On the 13th they managed to total 11 points on a single hole - George with a shot and James both birdied and David having an eagle.

The top two teams were five clear of third place. The President thanked all involved in running the day especially Dennis Williamson for being the official starter from 7am until 2.30pm.

Aylmer Cup

SIMON Emerson hit great form at just the right moment to take victory in the Aylmer Cup.

His card showed a very impressive back nine for a 22 handicap golfer, seven pars, one bogey and the only blot was an eight on the 13th.

A gross 80 Nett 58, he won by three strokes from Jonathon Lee (61) and James Pickard (61).

James is on a massive purple patch and is now in a very elite group of golfers to be off + handicap figure, this now means James must birdie the 18th to have a nett par.

Stableford

IT was David Baters turn to post an outrageous score in this week's Monday Stableford.

A superb round of golf that included eight birdies of which four were two's.

This gave him a superb 47 points, time away from golf recently to recover from knee surgery has certainly helped his form, his handicap has now been reduced to 4.6, just 2 away from four.

In second place was the steady player that is Mark Thomas. Mark scored 41 points and beat Nick Gingell on the back nine.

In the Seniors event a modest score by comparison won and it was Richard Whiddon who took top prize with 36 points.

B Team

AFTER a disappointing defeat away to Downes Crediton, the B-team were back to winning ways with a 4/2 win against Windwhistle Golf Club, who fielded some single figure handicap players and some higher handicapped players that were related to Dick Turpin.

The nearest pin prizes sponsored by Acanthus Press, Stuart Collings, East Devon Physiotherapy & Sports Injury Clinic Ltd and The Radway Inn were won by Shane Scott (Windwhistle) on the seventh hole and one of Sidmouth's up and coming young players Terry Carter took the prize on the 12th hole. The results were; Colin Macklin and Bob Welsman won 6/4, Bob Webber and Alec Salway lost 3/1, John Barnard and Terry Carter won one up, David Roberts (sir) and J. Carroll won 5/4, Keith Newton and Don Cooper lost 2/1, Gary Adam and Ian Bright won one up.

Seniors

THE Seniors have won both of their recent matches.

At Downes Crediton they recorded a very creditable 3½-2½ win with a number of the games being very close.

A good example of this was the game involving Tony Salvidge and Bob Cook who won when Tony holed a long putt from off the green on the 18th hole.

In many of these friendly matches a bottle of wine is offered for the visitor whose drive is on the green and nearest the pin on one of the short holes, and Downes Crediton also offers a prize for home players.

Unfortunately none of the home players managed to hit the green but John Bainbridge upheld Sidmouth's honour by taking the visitors prize.

A week later Sidmouth played hosts for the return match against Exeter.

As usual the match was played in a very friendly spirit although a desperate attempt by Dieter Ritz to get back on even terms in his match by playing from the Ladies' tee did bring a protest from his opponents!

Other team members fared rather better than Dieter and his partner and in the end Sidmouth recorded a 4-2 win.

No gliding or freewheeling for AVP

by Alistair 'Madal' Cope

AXE Valley Pedallers (AVP) are very keen to emphasize that their aim is to develop community cycling in and around the Axe Valley. However, cycling today has many facets and AVP are trying to introduce cyclists to as many different disciplines as possible. As part of this approach, this summer season a number of Pedallers have been taking part in race training at Merryfield Airfield, near Ilton.

The airfield was used as a glider base during the D-Day landings and is today still used as a satellite of Yeovilton for commando helicopter training. Today you will not catch sight of any gliders at the airfield or any Pedallers freewheeling as they race around the perimeter of the airfield in a tight formation known as a Peloton.

The training allows cyclists new to racing the opportunity to progress through various groups depending on their experience. They receive instruction as to how the group works, how the workload can be shared and how to stay safe when it is moving fast.

We are sure that this training will give AVP members a better understand when they come to watch the Tour of Britain that is passing through Seaton and on up the Axe Valley via Axminster on Friday 18th September.

This date is also when the cycle club has arranged a 24-hour cycle charity event, full details of which can be found on their website :www.axevalleypedallers.org.uk

The event is part of the club's continued drive to raise funds for Devon Air Ambulance Trust. Cyclists of all abilities are encouraged to take part, we even have a fancy dress start on Saturday 19th at 10 am, it should be great fun for all.

Honiton 2nds clinch the runners-up spot

FOR the final league fixture of 2009, Honiton entertained visitors Cullompton at Ottery Moor Lane, a somewhat brittle looking batting order having been depleted by the loss of opening pair Pete Beighton and Tom Strawbridge who both found themselves on first XI duty.

Regardless, skipper Andrew Lapping won the toss for the umpteenth time this season and had no hesitation in batting first on what looked like one of the flattest, hardest pitches seen all year. Lapping opened the batting, accompanied by Richard Potter following his recent string of magnificently soporific innings.

The pair negotiated the Cullompton pace attack well enough, with Lapping bludgeoning a huge six and two fours before finding himself stone cold LBW to Coombes for 19. Potter, having nurdled his way to seven, departed shortly after playing a sumptuous hoik to a straight, full length ball.

Honiton then found themselves collapsing like a tray of soggy Yorkshire puddings in a stiff breeze, as Nigel Foster was run out for a bludgeoning three, attempting an imaginary single to short mid wicket. Ian "Swine Flu" Kelly drove feebly to mid off after bludgeoning his way to a duck and Tom "Mackerel Flapper" Travers played on to Coombes, having bludgeoned a solitary run.

At 38-5 it seemed that both sides were in for an afternoon of crescenting the fence, mowing the lawn or topping up their tans on the beach. Keiran Sluman, however, demonstrated that he was made of sterner stuff by gutting it out in the company of Zak Johns (bludgeoned seven) and Craig Lapping (bludgeoned eight). Sluman's departure for an objure nine, brought together Cligg and Hill for a ninth wicket partnership of 14 from 10 overs.

The only potential difficulty for was presented by the usually excellent umpire Grant, flapping around like the great Dickie Bird at a break dancing competition when a clear ricochet involving nothing more than pad was greeted with an appeal for caught behind. Grant appeared to enter into negotiations with the Cullompton team, uncle Tom Cobbley and anyone else within earshot before arriving at the right decision for a whole host of bizarre and spurious reasons.

Cligg departed for a bludgeoned three. Last man Martyn Schmidt found himself plumb LBW, eschewing the convention of a forward defensive in favour of a back footed hack across the line of a delivery hitting middle stump half way up, leaving Hill high and dry on a cultured three not out.

87 all out was about 140 runs short of being a par score on a blameless pitch. Honiton, however made a good start in defence of their piffling total as Bristow, attempting an extravagant leave, played on to Craig Lapping's fourth ball. The big hitting Hutchings clearly believed the game could be won at a canter, hitting two enormous sixes off Lapping.

Hill removed Rawlings in the sixth over, but, with Hutchings present and the score 37-2 a Cullompton victory seemed inevitable.

Having induced numerous edges and repeatedly beaten the bat Hill then cut one back to bowl Granfield and Potter held a good catch to see off D. Paul.

Hutchings tried to drive a lifting away swinger but succeeded only in carving the ball to Cligg who clung onto a fine catch at backward point.

At 44-5, Hill swung one in to the left handed Goff, hitting the top of off-stump and on the stroke of tea S. Paul found his leading edge being snapped up at short mid-wicket, yet again by the honourable Potter.

Going into the interval at 50-7, Cullompton were in the mire thanks to some accurate and at times hostile Honiton bowling supported nobly by the usual accomplished ground fielding, Travers, C Lapping, Kelly, Sluman, Johns and Cligg all playing a huge part in throttling the Cullompton run chase..

On the resumption, Coombes found himself heading back to the hutch immediately with his middle stump splintered. Potter then contrasted his earlier heroics with a truly pitiful effort, failing to hold the simplest of dolly catches while apparently attempting some sort of grisly one-handed juggling manoeuvre inspired by Gerry Cottle.

It didn't matter, though, as the reliable Martyn Schmidt came on to ply his mystery spin, winding things up by clean bowling the last two men and seeing off Cullompton for a mere 57. (Hill 12-8-9-7, Schmidt 2.3-0-5-2, C Lapping 5-0-28-1, Johns 5-0-9-0).

Honiton took 15 points from the game, winning by 30 runs and cementing the runners up spot in the league. With promotion to D division already assured, one suspects that the chances of defending grubby little totals like 87 will be a thing of the past next year.

Youngsters shine for The Tigers

Budleigh Salterton 1 Axminster Town 2

ON A excellent playing surface and good conditions, the Tigers - without top goal scorer Mark Hancock away on business - pushed the former Bournemouth AFC youngster Dominic Mcallister up front alongside 19 year-old striker Richie Emmett.

The decision soon paid dividends and from a well rehearsed corner Mcallister scored in the 30th minute with his low, hard drive into the far corner of the net, to put the Tigers 1-0 up.

The game was going from end to end, with some good passing phases. Ax created goal scoring chances with both Joel Gosling and Richie Emmett going close but the score remained 1-0 at half-time.

The game was well balanced after the break but in the 59th minute Dave Wilkes scored for Budleigh with a close range header to make it 1-1. The Tigers gradually got back on top to take control of the game, going close on numerous occasions with Dominic Mcallister and Richie Emmett's movement off the ball causing Budleigh's defence all sorts of problems.

The experienced Adam Cowling coming on as sub, young striker Jamie Barfoot on as sub and Andrew Gauge on for the injured Dan Jewell, the Tigers continued to push for the winner and they got their rewards in the 87th minute with a good passing move started and finished by Alex Wheatley. He set up centre back Richard Challis whose goal bound strike from 30 yards took a deflection and it fell back to Wheatley who made no mistake from 25 yards with his low shot into the back of the net.

This was a good away result for the Tigers with young Danny Beer having an outstanding game to get the man-of-the-match award.

Axminster: Higgs, Challis, Galloway, Jewell, Beer, Highett, Turner, Wheatly, Gosling, Mcallister, Emmett Cowling, Barfoot, Gauge.

Last day win saves Uplyme from going down

UPLYME and Lyme Regis' troubled season - blighted with points deductions and suspensions - finished on a high note on the last day of the season.

With the Caddy brothers Ashley and Adam, former Seaton players, taking a leading role this season, Uplyme were looking for promotion from the Devon Cricket League E division.

But the points deductions for disciplinary matters meant that the East Devon villagers had to pull out all the stops on Saturday to avoid relegation.

And they did just that with a six-wicket, 20-point victory over mid-table Ottery St Mary to finish third from bottom, one place above Kilmington, to avoid the drop.

It has been a difficult season for Axminster Town in the B division. They also finished third from bottom, escaping relegation, with Tim Wakeley helping the Carptemen to 14 points win with a knock of 99 at home to Shobrooke.

Axminster 2nds struggled all season in the 2nd X1 Division A, finishing the season with a losing draw at Shobrooke and a second from bottom position, having won only one game all season.

Axminster 3rds managed to avoid the drop in D Division East, finishing third from bottom, but the Axminster 4th X1 failed to win a match all season and finished bottom of the E Division East.

Seaton finished their season in disappointing form, losing by seven wickets to Plymouth Civil Service and had to settle for a below mid-table position.

Honiton 1st X1 struggled all season in the E Division, finishing second from bottom, losing their last game of the season by six wickets to Countess Wear.

Honiton 2nds, however, did well in E Division East, finishing in runners up spot after securing 15 points in a victory over Cullompton, despite scoring only 87 runs (see page 63 for full match report).

Upton did well to finish in third place in Division F and Kilmington 2nds had a good season in D Division East, finishing in third spot.
